Magic Guard Against Rattlesnakes.
Camping out in a rattlesnake-infested district with no other protection for one's bed than an encircling horse-hair rope would not give the average tenderfoot a feeling of security. A photograph in Popular Mechanics Magazine showed two campers making their bed on the Western plains, surrounded by nothing more stable than one of these ropes, as it is well known in that region that rattlesnakes have an unquenchable aversion for crawling over a rope of this kind.

"Old Clothes to Mend."
Chinese merchants who want a bit of mending done never have to go very far, for there are needlewomen seated along the street ready to sew and mend. Sometimes these workers sit on low stools and sometimes on the sidewalks, but there they sit sewing away hard, for they never are short of patrons. These women are generally the wives of fishermen or boatmen and are glad to get the little "odds and ends" of work to help increase the family income.

The French academy is the oldest of five academies constituting the Institute of France, having been founded in 1635. It is composed of 40 members, elected for life and known as the "Forty Immortals." They rank as the leading Frenchmen of their time in literature. Their judgment and decisions in all disputed literary matters are final.

Progress.
Material progress is of value only in so far as it assists toward the realization of human possibilities. Industry and commerce and the social conditions, which are in a large degree depending upon them, must be regarded from the point of view of the individual member of society, and if they cramp the life of the individual, no amount of economic argument will suffice to justify them.

A WAR CAKE

By MARION WORTHLEY.

"There, you worry thing, I just knew you would come out horrid," said Marie as she closed the oven door and placed the cake on the kitchen table.

"I have always had bad luck when I want things to be especially good, but it's all the fault of that four substitute, and mother did want me to use it. Each a day for her to choose to go to town just when Mark and Phil Gordon are coming from camp!"

Marie had never met the Phil Gordon of whom she spoke, but she had seen him several times, and as he was her brother's chum at camp, she was anxious that everything, herself included, should look attractive when he made his first visit; therefore her fretful remarks about a perfectly good war cake.

With a resolution to make the best of what she had, Marie whipped up a frosting for the cake, observed that it didn't look so bad after all, and set it on a chair outside the kitchen door so that the feline would be hard and cool in time for luncheon.

Then she bustled about and set the table for three, as her mother would not be home until late. A hurried glance at the clock showed her that she had just 20 minutes in which to dress before her brother and his chum were due, so with a last look around at the snowy linen, gleaming silver and the glowing chrysanthemums in the center of the table, she gave a satisfied sigh, and went to her room to make good enough better, as Mark used to tell her.

Twenty minutes passed and Marie returned and stepped outside the door to get her cake. What a sight met her eyes! The cake was there, certainly, but perched on top of it, contentedly licking the frosting, was Spug, a neighbor's cat!

Marie cried out and made a dash for it but the culprit eluded her grasp and sprang off the steps, running for its life. And Marie, thoroughly angry, snatched up the cake and hurried it after the animal, which was nearing the corner of the house.

"You horrid beast!" she cried and stopped short in amazement for around the corner came a young man in khaki just in time to get the cake squarely in the face.

"I win," cried a voice from the other side, and turning quickly Marie saw Mark, who had come from the opposite direction, stop in astonishment.

"Good heavens! sis," he said. "What ever have you been doing to Phil?" Then he burst out laughing and Phil, who had by now disengaged the sticky mess from his face, soon joined him, but Marie, now that her first burst of anger was over, stood dumb with embarrassment. Seeing this, Mark took a hand in the situation and introduced his chum, explaining that they had raced to the door to see which was the nearest way.

By the time the tale was finished Marie had recovered her poise and amid much laughter told them the story of her war cake.

"But," she ended, blushing, throwing a glance at Gordon, "I don't always greet our callers that way, and if you will come in I think we will have our luncheon without the ill-fated cake."

Private Phil Gordon, catching a glimpse of curly, brown hair, bright eyes and elusive dimples, vowed that no matter how she greeted others he would do his best to make her greeting for him always cordial, and some time later, as he found many occasions to call, it proved even more than cordial.

FAMOUS DOGS LONG KNOWN

Breed of St. Bernard Have Been Renowned for Centuries for Their Special Work.

The St. Bernard pass is of historical renown. It connects the valleys of the Rhone and the Dora Baltea. It was traversed by Roman legions thousands of years ago. In medieval times the pass served the armies of conquerors and the bands of mercenaries. Napoleon crossed the Alps at this point in 1800.

The great monastery was built in the middle of the sixteenth century. It was maintained for the relief of travelers who were surprised by snowstorms while crossing the pass. The St. Bernard dogs were used to find the frozen victims of the storms in the snowdrifts. They were specially trained for this work of relief and carried the first aid to the injured in a little basket attached to their collars. These dogs rescued thousands of human beings, many of whom were of historic prominence. And for the first time in the history of this famous monastery the dogs, during the war, had to be slaughtered for want of food.

Boys Who "Make Good."

Probably not 1 per cent of the successful men in the world today gave any evidence of having great ability when they were "kids." The prodigies do not make good. The "exceptional" youngster in school seldom conquers after he has entered real life; but the plain fellow of common sense, slow to learn, slow to become enthused, slow to make companions and slow to give them up—the fellow who sticks to a job until it is finished, that is the fellow who in after life rules and regulates the affairs of this little green ball.—Exchange.

THE WORLD'S OPINION.

Nations are not unlike individuals. They must of necessity attain and hold the good opinion of their fellows. They must stand well before the world.

Right now America's standing is a high.

Let us help keep it so.

America went into this world war more than anything else to retain her position before the world. To maintain her honor among the nations of earth.

Germany had outraged it; had scoffed at it; had put upon Uncle Sam every sort of humiliation. Had dubbed us a nation of cowardly money chasers.

Finally as a last straw she began making war upon innocent women and children. Sinking our vessels without warning; drowning Americans wholesale.

And the world had more or less begun to think pretty much as Germany did.

All that has been changed; swiftly, effectively, finally.

Today the whole world takes off its hat to America.

To our aggressiveness, our enterprise, our dash and courage and gallantry, our sheer fighting strength and ability.

It will be many a day before a foreign nation again attempts to tread upon the tail of our coat.

They know!

And having won the world's good opinion let's hold it.

Uncle Sam has extensive financial and moral obligations to meet. Obligations both at home and abroad. Obligations that are imperative, vital, crucial.

Obligations that, strange as it may seem, are largely to be met with cold cash. Bills that must be paid; loans that must be made in the final rescue and restoration of Europe.

And as you and I and the millions of others, citizens of this republic, are in truth America in the flesh, this is our obligation.

Just as it was our fight.

Let's meet it in the same spirit we met the Hun.

Let's take all of this Victory Liberty Loan.

Whole Family Sick.

"All of my six brothers and sister, as well as myself, have suffered since childhood from stomach and liver trouble and bloating. I thought it ran in the family and that I could never be cured, but, thanks to May's Wonderful Remedy, since taking it nearly a year ago I have been enjoying the best of health and feel like a new person. I have no trouble from anything I eat."

It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. R. E. McROBERTS and DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

Cooties Are Dangerous.

Cooties over there worried our soldiers and made many of them sick. Uncle Sam fought the pests continually. Tree cooties, the San Jose Scale, worry fruit trees and make them too sick to produce good fruit. Spraying will kill these pests. If you do not know how to spray trees or to mix sprays get a Spray Calendar from the College of Agriculture at Lexington. A post card will bring it.

The compensation of the president of the United States is fixed by congress, and may not be increased or diminished during the existing presidential term, that is, any increase or reduction of the salary or emoluments of the office can only take effect at the next term. The original salary of the office was $25,000 a year, increased in 1873 to $50,000, and in 1909 to $75,000.

Deceived From Passing Idea.

It was a passing idea which gave to the world the discovery of galvanic electricity, so useful in transmitting vocal or written language. Mine Galvani simply happened to notice the contraction of the muscles of a skinned frog accidentally touched at the moment her husband took a spark from an electrical machine, and that was the whole thing!

COULD HARDLY STAND ALONE

Terrible Suffering From Headache, Sideache, Backache, and Weakness, Relieved By Cardui, Says This Texas Lady.

Gonzales, Tex.—Mrs. Minnie Philpot, of this place, writes: "Five years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side. It was right under my left rib. It would commence with an aching and extend up into my left shoulder and on down into my back. By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days. I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone. Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go. I suffered awful with a pain in my back and I had the headache all the time. I just was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help me.

One day a Birthday Almanac was thrown in my yard. After reading its testimonials I decided to try Cardui, and am so thankful that I did, for I began to improve when on the second bottle. I am now a well woman and feeling fine and the cure has been permanent for it has been two years since my awful bad health. I will always praise and recommend Cardui." Try Cardui today. E 78
